Accessibility Statement for Microsoft Israel R&D Center Website

Summary

Microsoft Israel R&D Center website content posted since 2019 meets Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.1 at Level AA. Older content meets earlier versions of WCAG.

Measures to support accessibility

Microsoft Israel R&D Center takes the following measures to ensure accessibility of the Microsoft Israel R&D Center website:

- Include accessibility as a requirement for all web content. Content must meet WCAG 2.1 AA, and should meet AAA as feasible.
- Assign clear accessibility goals and responsibilities.
- Ensure content authors have accessibility knowledge and skills.
- Include accessibility as part of our mission.
- Include accessibility throughout our internal policies.
- Usability test with participants with disabilities.

Conformance status

The Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) standard defines requirements to improve accessibility for people with disabilities. It defines three levels of conformance: Level A, Level AA, and Level AAA. "Fully conforms" means that the content meets all of the WCAG requirements at the specified Level without exceptions.

Microsoft Israel R&D Center website content posted since 2019 fully conforms to WCAG 2.1 Level AA.

Older content conforms to earlier versions of WCAG, for example, WCAG 2.0. Most of the older content is archived and will not be updated.
